OFFICERS FOR 1901-2.

Geo. Edwards, F.C.A.,	-	-	-	-	Hon. President.
Wilton C. Eddis, F.C.A.,	-	-	-	-	Hon. Vice-President.

Any person who is eligible for registration as a student under By-law 11 of the Institute may become a member upon payment of an annual fee of one dollar.

The annual meeting is held in the month of September, and meetings are held fortnightly thereafter until the April following, at which subjects of study for the Institute examinations are discussed and lectures delivered by members of the Institute and others.

A select library of accountancy, text books and literature is owned by the Association for circulation among the members. Books must be exchanged at the regular meetings, or oftener as may be arranged by the Committee. All further information, programmes of meetings, etc., will be furnished on application to the Secretary.

INFORMATION FOR INTENDING CANDIDATES.

PRIMARY EXAMINATIONS.

The object of the Primary Examination by the Institute is to reasonably insure that future candidates for membership shall be men of good general education, the Council holding the view that the comparatively slow progress made hitherto towards obtaining recognition from the public of the claims of accountancy to be considered as a profession, had been due in no small measure to the superficial character of the education deemed to be necessary to fit a man for intelligently undertaking the duties of an accountant, or even of a book-keeper (understood in the sense of one versed in one branch only of accountancy). While it may be true that every accountant will find his own level on the ground of natural ability alone, it is equally certain that the accountant who has had the initial advantage of a good general education, supplemented by a judicious course of special training for his calling or profession, will outdistance the accountant who has not had these advantages, everything else being equal.

To give effect to the aims and objects of the Institute, as set forth in the Charter of Incorporation, a good standard of education in its future members must be maintained as a "sine qua non." The Council desires to avoid, so far as may be possible, the actual holding of primary examinations, having no special facilities for the early training of young men in subjects of general education. These facilities being so abundant, and the standards of study and examination in our high schools and in the many colleges and other educational institutions to be found scattered over the Province being so unquestionably high, the Council will in all cases recognize the desired standing acquired therein. Thus far it has not been thought expedient to adopt any arbitrary specification of the educational attainments necessary to secure for the candidate exemption from the Primary Examination. The merits of each case presented for consideration will be taken carefully into account by the examining committee of the Institute, and if the evidence fails to satisfy the committee, then the candidate will be required to undergo the Primary Examination prescribed by the By-law

INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATIONS.

The Intermediate Examinations of the Institute are intended to afford to students who desire to take up accountancy as a profession an opportunity to test their general progress in professional knowledge, to enable the Council to form an estimate of their capabilities, and to advise upon and direct, so far as may be, their course of preparation for the Final Examination, which qualifies for admission to membership as an Associate.

The Intermediate Examinations are held in the month of May in each year, at the offices of the Institute in Toronto and elsewhere within the Province where educational institutions have been affiliated for such purposes. The Council is empowered to conduct an Intermediate Examination wherever the circumstances of the case may make such course expedient, and facilities can be provided. As this provision is for the convenience of intending candidates residing at a distance or whose business engagements may prevent their attendance at Toronto, any extra expenses incurred in connection therewith must be borne by the candidate in addition to the fees specified by By-law.

The Council has no power to exempt any candidate from the Intermediate Examination excepting his case comes within the provisions of By-law 51. Valuable time will be saved if candidates will not otherwise apply for exemption.

To pass this examination, the candidate must obtain fifty per cent. of the maximum marks fixed by the Examiners. Further, the candidate must obtain forty per cent. on at least four papers, and must satisfy the Examiners as to his acquirements in book-keeping.

Applications for examination in the Primary and Intermediate Examinations must be in the form provided in the Schedule to the By-laws, and must reach the Secretary not later than the last day of the month preceding the examinations.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS.

The Final Examinations of the Institute are held in the month of May at the offices of the Institute, or such other place in the City of Toronto as the Examination Committee shall decide. To meet circumstances of a special or unusual nature, the Council is empowered to conduct a Final Examination wherever suitable facilities can be provided, the extra expenses incurred being borne by the candidate in addition to the fees specified by By-law.

Careful analysis of the work done by candidates in the Institute Examinations during the past few years have demonstrated the great value of business experience as a course of preparation therefor. Hereafter no candidate will be permitted to write in the Finals who has not supplemented his studies by a reasonable period of practical work in a business office, or under the direction of a practising accountant.

The maximum marks obtainable in this examination are fixed by the Examiners. Sixty per cent. of said marks will pass the candidate, provided, however, that fifty per cent., or over, shall have been obtained on at least four papers, and he must satisfy the Examiners as to his acquirements in Advanced Book-keeping and Auditing, otherwise the candidate shall be deemed to have failed, notwithstanding his aggregate marks.

Passing the Final Examination does not entitle the successful candidate to be styled an Associate, or to membership in the Institute. The Charter of Incorporation provides that admission to membership and all the privileges thereby conferred shall be by the vote of the members. The examination is a test of eligibility only, on the ground of professional attainments. The name of each successful candidate will be presented for ballot of the members at the meeting of the Institute next ensuing, unless the candidate otherwise desires.

Application for examination in the Final Examinations must be in the form provided in the Schedule to the By-laws, and must reach the Secretary not later than the last day of the month preceding that in which the examination is to be held.

TEXT BOOKS FOR STUDENTS.

The Council do not desire to limit the student in his choice of text books on subjects within the scope of the Institute Examinations, but the following list will probably prove to be of great assistance. At the same time, in view of the necessarily practical character of the qualifications required in candidates to ensure success, the course of study here outlined should be regarded merely as an adjunct to the term of practical business experience which is required by the By-laws.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING EXAMINATIONS.

1. Examinations, if held at more than one point, shall take place concurrently.
2. The examinations shall extend over two days commencing at 9 a.m. each day, and will occupy from six to seven hours daily.
3. One or more supervisors will be in attendance at each point where candidates are to be examined, and will remain in the room during the entire session.
4. No books or papers of any kind may be brought into the room by candidates, and for writing purposes only the paper supplied by the supervisor may be used.
5. Each candidate will, before the commencement of the examination, select a "motto," which he shall sign to the papers containing his answers. A memorandum of identification shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, and the same lodged with the secretary. This envelope shall remain sealed until after the Examination Committee have made their report to the Council.
6. Candidates will not be permitted to write unless or until the prescribed fees have been paid, and also when required, any special fee to cover extra expenses, and the receipt therefor shall be produced for the inspection of the supervisor, if demanded.
7. The supervisor will open the sealed packets containing the question papers in the presence of the candidates at the hours specified.
8. No explanation or opinion concerning any question will be given to the candidates, and no talking will be allowed in the room.
9. Candidates leaving the room during the time allowed upon any paper will not be permitted to resume, but must give up their papers before leaving.

10. Candidates will be notified of the results as soon as ascertained and a list of the successful candidates will be published in the Toronto newspapers.

11. Any appeal from the finding of the Examiners must be made within ten days after the results are made known, whereupon the papers of the candidate appealing will be reviewed by the examining board. After the time for appeal has expired the papers may be destroyed.

The attention of intending candidates is directed to the advisability of Registering under By-law 11 at a period as well as possible in advance of the dates for holding the examinations, as by so doing they will be assured due notice from time to time of whatever may transpire in their interest.

INSTITUTE MEETINGS.

The ordinary monthly meetings of the Institute are held during the third week in each month, from October to April inclusive, at which general business, if any, is transacted, followed by the reading of papers upon subjects of interest to the profession. These meetings are open to the public and to students and their friends who are invited to be present and to take part in the discussions which follow the reading of the papers.

The place and dates of meetings and the subjects of the papers to be read, are fixed sometime during the month of September and the Secretary will be glad to send the official announcement to anyone leaving name and address with him for that purpose.
